

AUSTRALIAN SOCIETY OF MARINE ARTISTS

SMALL BOATS

Wednesday 30th August 2023

This new online exhibition featured the subject of Small Boats with each artist invited to submit a painting in any manner or context preferred. Please enjoy this selection and admire the standards and interpretations to be found in the Australian Society of Marine Artists. Our first online exhibition Fish and Ships is also worth tucking into and can be found on the ASMA Website.

Small Boats Exhibition is a collection of works conveying the enduring influence of small boats to an island 'girt by sea' blessed with bays, tributaries, estuaries, lakes and calling to our desire to venture, play, be still, make means for work and more. The member artists' contribution to this exhibition informs the many variations and interpretation of what a small boat is and how humanity interacts in personal, purposeful and meaningful ways with nature.

I would like to acknowledge all members who have painted specifically for this exhibition to realise that your response, honors a desire to encourage and challenge new works, and new responses and contribution to our theme.

Since my introduction to maritime art in 2007, I have never ceased to be moved or more motivated as now to give thanks to all whose gifts and talents celebrate the wondrous relationship between humanity and the sea. It has been my delight and fear to select one to be realised as 'winner', when all are so wonderfully crafted, unique and collectively well aligned to the theme.

My selection therefore was simply the way in which the artist has invited me, the viewer, to feel, rejoice in the moment, reflect and wonder at the scene in which those small boats have facilitated such as this. Thank you.
